Parental Involvement Policy

This parental involvement policy has been developed to maximize the learning of the students at Adams Hill Elementary School.

Policy Involvement – Each year this policy will be shared with the parents of Adams Hill students. Teachers will present it to parents at the beginning of the year orientations, administration will share it with parents at the first Parent-Teacher Association (PTA) meeting, and a copy will be sent home along with the Parent Compact.

Program Involvement – At the beginning of the year meetings and/or at other times as appropriate, information will be shared with the parents regarding Title I Programs, including: math, reading, writing, science, social services, and tutoring. A public meeting will be held to share the State Report Card which is provided to the school. Parents will be provided opportunities at these times to express any concerns which they may have, about the Title I programs. If necessary, the School-Wide Plan or the School Improvement Plan may be modified.

School Parent Compact – A School Parent Compact has been developed to delineate the responsibilities of the school and the responsibilities of the parents in each student's education. A copy will be given at the first parent conference.

Parent Training and Building Capacity for Involvement – It is part of Adams Hill School's role to help parents assist their students in school. This is accomplished through presentations of Family Math and/or Family Literacy Nights, Science Fair, Technology Nights and PTA programs. Additionally, PTA officers are strongly encouraged to attend training sessions which are available to them through the Northside Council of PTA's. Training is provided to teachers on attaining parent support and involvement for our school.

Accessibility – Participation of all parents is important. Some of the materials sent home include the following: School Parent compact, Student Parent Handbook, Parent Bulletins, Report Cards and Invitations to Admission, Review and Dismissal (ARD) Committees.

This policy complies with Northside Independent School District's policies for parental involvement: EHBD (Legal) and EHBD (Local).
