

NHS Constitution

Revised: May 2002

The text below is the national constitution under which all NHS chapters operate. Local chapters of NHS are given authority to vary from some sections of this document, for example, they may set the Scholarship requirement at a level above the stated 3.0 national minimum standard as long as this new standard is applied fairly and consistently. The limits of the chapter's authority are described in the national handbook, a copy of which has been provided to the chapter adviser of every duly affiliated chapter (fall 1997). Additional copies of the handbook can be obtained by contacting the NHS Sales office at (866) 647-7253.

Persons noting a difference between the guidelines below and those in use at the local level should first direct their concerns to the local chapter adviser (a member of the school's faculty assigned to this role by the building principal), to seek clarification of the local policies. Chapters can share local bylaws or selection procedures to assist in making this clarification. Any local policies found to be out of compliance with the national constitution should be adjusted and may, if necessary, be brought to the attention of either the school principal or the national office.

A middle level unit in the same building with a high school unit will be appropriate cause for two separate chapters (one for the National Junior Honor Society and the one for the National Honor Society).
