

An Art Class- "Group Accomplishment"

Creating a sense of "being together", without being close. Each student in Mr. Franke's class could see the full painting by Monet (below), and knew which piece of it was to be created by them. Every student in his class did their "part" and it all came together beautifully.

"No student was provided materials or surface to work with, 'Make do with what you have' was the expectation." Here is the Students' masterpiece below:

"The students described it as an 'experience of teamwork and a finished product', 'We each have a souvenir of the assignment'."
