

Selection of Instructional Programs

In an effort to minimize the movement of students from teacher to teacher when we begin to return to the classroom, we would like to gather some insight into whether you would like for your student (s) to return to the classroom when it is possible.

Please Note: that the selection of a child to stay in a virtual classroom will last for the length of the grading period. Each nine weeks, students will be required to let the campus know if they wish for their setting to change for the next marking period.

Review the commitment below:

For the Virtual Environment

- Ensure your student follows their assigned schedule and participates in all classes synchronously and asynchronously in order to meet the 90% attendance requirement.
- Ensure there is a designated learning space for your student at home free of distractions
- Check out an electronic device from the district if needed
- Ensure there is adequate internet in the household, or seek assistance from the district
- Understand that the selection of the virtual learning model must remain the entire 9-week grading period before having the option of transitioning to in-person learning
- Become familiar with the Learning Management System (LMS), Schoology, to provide support as needed
- Maintain communication with your child's teachers by phone, email, or online meetings to receive feedback on their progress and create a learning partnership
- Ensure your child has required school supplies necessary for learning
- Set up a Home Access Center (HAC) account to monitor grades and progress

For the In-Person Environment

- Ensure your student is in attendance daily in order to meet the 90% attendance requirement
- Ensure you screen your student daily and only send to school if are cleared to do so
- Ensure students understand that they will be wearing the face coverings during the day at school and adhering to the safely protocols set by the district and each campus
- Understand that at the high school level, instruction will be provided using an alternating day hybrid model.
